For you as our customer it is important that you can trust in our work so that you can be sure that your ideas of quality and customer service are implemented accordingly. Therefore, we have already been working according to the specifications of the current standard DIN EN 15038 for translation services for a long time.

We have undergone an official test by the responsible TÜV (German Technical Inspection Authority) which precisely documents and ensures all criteria of order processing conforming to standards - from the receipt of the text to be translated to the delivery of a first class, high quality translation.

We are happy to inform you that our translation bureau is certified according to the quality standard DIN EN 15038. Only a handful of translation bureaus in Germany have such a formidable certification.

Our process structures, our specialist translators as well as the technical background which we have at our disposal were able to convince the inspectors of the TÜV.

Of course, we are also still at your disposal as a certified service provider at the accustomed terms and conditions. We thank you for your confidence and for the good collaboration and as of now we can also tend to special requests which relate to the standard.
